Our Recreational Supervisor, Timarie

Timarie Rideout has involved in the sport of gymnastics for over 45 years. She participated in gymnastics as an athlete while attending Centennial High School. During her high school years, she was also involved with cheerleading and danced at Nancy Pattison's School of Dance.

During her career in the sport of gymnastics she has had the privilege of working at California clubs and in camp settings in Cali and Pennsylvania. "There's just so much more interest in gymnastics in the last twenty years." says Timarie. She believes more parents understand the importance of a sport like gymnastics for the physical and psychological development of young children.

"The internet, such as YouTube, has allowed young people to watch gymnastics skills and routines in order to learn specific skills." explains Timarie. While it's great to have these videos available it can create problems with the children believing it's much easier to perform certain skills. As our world become more about instant gratification, learning gymnastics skills does not work this way.

Being involved as an athlete seems like the natural progression into coaching. But, it's not that easy. It takes a long time to progress to a higher level of coaching. But if it's the sport you love, you will get better. "Follow your passion even if it's short term. You will make a huge difference in young children's lives." says Rideout.

Now that Timarie has reached many pinnacles in her career, she said the following when ask, "What would you tell the young Timarie today? "I would tell her to continue to progress, stay focused, learn from your mistakes and strive for the future." she quoted.

Over the past 45 years, Timarie feels she has helped direct many young people to a better future. Here's one of her favourite quotes, "A good coach can teach a skill, a great coach can change a life."

THANK YOU Timarie for changing many young peoples lives!
